Private Bonnie C. Jordan Has Ankle Shattered When He Resists Attempt To Rob Him.

SLUGGED BY BANDIT STATES ROME MAN

A. T. Holsomback Tells Police He Was Knocked Unconscious and Then Robbed of $165.

Slugged unconscious by a negro assailant Sunday night, A. T. Holsomback, of Rome, staggered into the police station after regaining consciousness and told the story of his robbery. He was unable to tell just how long he remained unconscious. It was the second case of assault by bandits on victims within 24 hours. In the first case a soldier was shot. The negro bandit who slugged him escaped with $165 in paper money and several dollars in change and a gold 17-jewel watch, he told police. He was robbed while walking on Decatur street.

Displays Big Roll.

Previous to his robbery he had paid for a meal at a nearby restaurant, displaying a large roll of bills, and police believe that his assailant saw the money. The negro struck Holsomback over the left eye with some blunt object.

A companion who was with Holsomback at the time fled he told police. Holsomback was unable to give his name. He described the negro who robbed him as being a mulatto about six feet tall, and wearing a red sweater.

Detectives W. D. McGhee and L. H. Satterfield were assigned the case. They are looking for a negro known as "Teller Kid" as being Holsomback's assailant. Holsomback was carried to Grady hospital.

SEVERAL INJURED IN SEENEY WRECK

Suwanee River Special of Southern Is Wrecked 15 Miles From Rome; Engineer Hurt.

Rome, Ga., November 8.—(AP)—Suwanee Special, No. 6, on the Southern railroad, was derailed at Seeney's, 15 miles south of Rome, at 7:30 tonight, the engine and mail car overturning and the baggage car, day coach and one Pullman jumping the track. Herbert Hamrick, Coalhutta, Ga., baggage master, suffered three broken ribs, and Fireman Mose Berry was painfully injured. R. M. Barclay, of Atlanta, was slightly injured. The train was in charge of Conductor W. A. Slate. The injured were brought to a hospital in this city. It is understood that the accident was caused by a spreading rail, as the result of recent work on the road at that point. The track was blocked for two and a half hours.

INDIAN TRIED TODAY FOR KILLING BABY TO RESURRECT WIFE

Pueblo, Col., November 8.—(AP)—The love of a Ute Indian for his bride, which caused him to bury his 17-day-old baby alive in the grave of his mother, believing it would bring her back to life, will bring Platt Nae face to face with the white man's law here tomorrow in a federal court trial for murder.

Nae, who has been held in jail here since last February, will invoke the law of the medicine man for his defense. He contends that he buried the child on the advice of his father-in-law, Mormon Joe, medicine man of the Utes, who is also held as an accessory.

Two Auto Accident Victims Reported Dying At Hospital

Crawford McGee, Aged White Man, and Unidentified Negro, Victims of Two Crashes.

LANGLEY DRIVERS FIGURE IN CRASH

Six Persons Badly Injured When Cars Driven by Men With Same Name Collide Sunday Night.

Two men—one white and the other a negro—are in a dying condition at Grady hospital and twelve other persons were injured in a series of automobile accidents early Sunday night in different sections of Atlanta.

The white man reported to be dying is Crawford McGee, 83 years old, of 29 Hogue street. He was struck down by an automobile as he attempted to cross Edgewood avenue near Jackson street. His skull was fractured and he is believed to have suffered internal injuries.

Hixon Driving Car.

H. A. Hixon, of 107 Clifton road, cashier in the state treasurer's office, was driving the machine which struck McGee. He told police that he was driving at a slow rate of speed along Edgewood avenue when McGee stepped suddenly in front of his machine.

He was unable to stop the machine before striking the man, he told police. Hixon stopped his machine and assisted McGee into another automobile which rushed the injured man to Grady hospital and Hixon then reported the accident at the police station.

Two Autos Collide.

Six persons were badly shaken up and bruised in a collision between two automobiles at Bankhead and Chestnut streets. Extent of the injuries to all members of the parties has not been determined.

J. A. Langley, of 525 Simpson street, one of the drivers, suffered severe bruises about the chest and on the leg when his machine struck another car driven by J. H. Langley, of 64 Crew street. Mrs. J. A. Langley was severely bruised and shaken. She was carried to her home by Dr. W. M. Etheridge, councilman from the third ward.

Other occupants of the car driven by J. H. Langley were Miss La Merle Langley, of 64 Crew street; George Stephens, who is employed at Grady hospital, and Miss Alene Speer, of 287 Lucile avenue. Both young women were admitted for treatment at the hospital and the three men were given first-aid treatment.

According to Patrolmen J. F. Aldridge and L. E. Rattledge, J. A. Langley was driving west on Bankhead and attempted to turn south into Chestnut street when the cars crashed. A case of reckless driving was docketed against both drivers. Although the principals in the accidents had the same name they had never met before, they told police.

R. A. Gillette, of 312 Stewart avenue, was taken to Grady hospital for treatment Sunday night after being struck down by an automobile as he attempted to cross Marietta between Corporate and Pine streets. The identity of the driver of the machine was not learned by Call Officers R. E. Whitley and M. B. Johnson who investigated.

Physicians at the hospital said Gillette had suffered a broken left arm and a badly skinned and bruised leg.

U. S. AID IS URGED FOR WORLD COURT

Mass Meeting Is Held by Christian Council at Central Presbyterian Church Sunday.

Speaking before a large audience at a mass meeting sponsored by the Christian Council of Atlanta at Central Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon, Eugene R. Black and Dr. M. Ashby Jones, pastor of Ponce de Leon Baptist church urged the entrance of the United States in the world court.

Both speakers paid high tribute to the purposes and value of the world court and declared that it is now the logical move for this country to make in dealing in international affairs. The meeting was well attended. Robert C. Alston presided.

At the close of the meeting resolutions were adopted urging the entry on the United States into the world court. The resolutions were introduced by the Rev. Dr. P. McGeeby, pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian church.

The resolutions urged congress to vote participation in the world court at the next session. Copies were sent to Senator W. J. Harris and Senator Walter F. George at Washington.

'Dinner Thief' of Rare Jewels Eludes Long Island Police

Mineola, L. I., November 8.—Nassau county police are doubling their efforts to capture the elusive and daring "dinner thief," who displays the agility of a human fly in his operations, and who has made successful raids on the jewel chests of eight Long Island society matrons within the past two months.

This master of his art, who is fastidious in the selection of his loot, paid his latest visit Saturday night at the estate of August C. Flammann, a prominent Brooklyn attorney, near Great Neck, and escaped with jewels valued at approximately $13,000 while the family was at dinner. Additional jewels valued at more than $50,000 were either overlooked or scorned by the intruder.

With a thoroughness in surveying his field before attempting a robbery, and an acrobatic agility in making his entrance, the "dinner thief" has been

GOVERNOR PINCHOT ASSAILS ENFORCEMENT OF DRY LAW BY GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON SEES NO SIGN OF CHANGE IN PROHIBITION LAW

Administration Regards Attack of Pinchot on Dry Law Enforcement as Unwarranted.

REPUBLICAN POLICY STILL UNCHANGED

Little Hope Held for Success of Wets' Effort to Weaken Volstead Act at Next Session.

Washington, November 8.—(AP)—The Volstead act at the coming session of congress will be impossible, because the administration will resist any such effort with all of its power. Those in control of republican policies agree that the party would be inviting trouble in the congressional elections next year by showing any weakness in its allegiance to prohibition. Regardless of personal views, political expediency holds them to the Volstead act.

Governor Pinchot's speech before the dry convention at Chicago against high officials of congress to break the law and suggest that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has failed to use the enforcement powers given to him are regarded by the administration as unwarranted.

Strengthen Enforcement.

The answer made here is that the enforcement machinery is being strengthened daily. Lincoln C. Anderson has reorganized the service, and is scrapping old political barons which have infested it. Some senators and congressmen have expressed dismay at the ruthless manner in which Andrews is jerking out the second cousins of bootleggers and the errand boys of politicians who have worn the badge of enforcement officers.

In the east hope springs eternal that prohibition will disappear. New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania vote quite frequently in local contests. Dog catchers are elected on anti-Volstead platforms. But federal laws are still made by congress and there the dry have a preponderant majority.

Urges Near-Beer Tax.

Instead of weakening, the administration is pressing more strongly toward absolute enforcement. Andrews has just recommended that congress place an excise tax on near-beer so that he can send excise agents into the breweries and stop the manufacture of near-beer which he says is flooding some sections of the country. This is the way the administration sustains the criticisms that the law is unenforceable.

But regardless of the administration's adamant policy on enforcement, prohibitionists are not giving up. They are just recommending that congress place an excise tax on near-beer so that he can send excise agents into the breweries and stop the manufacture of near-beer which he says is flooding some sections of the country. This is the way the administration sustains the criticisms that the law is unenforceable.

5 Women Die Mysteriously In Minnesota

Bodies Are Found in Cottage in South Hibbing, Minnesota.

Hibbing, Minn., November 8.—(AP)—Five women, hotel employees here, were found dead today, either from poisoning or asphyxiation.

A gas jet open in the kitchen of the home in which they were discovered, may have caused the deaths, although a coroner's inquest has been called to determine if wine, in small glasses on the table, contained poison.

The dead:

Mrs. Ellis Kuusisto, 35, owner of the cottage.

Mrs. Ida Hardy, 35, her tenant.

Mrs. Hermina, 35.

Mrs. Mary Ernsten, 35.

Katherine Green, 25.

The bodies were discovered by Mrs. Kuusisto's 9-year-old daughter, who summoned neighbors when she was unable to enter. The door was broken down.

The inquest will be held tomorrow.

Mrs. Ernsten's body was lying in the bathroom doorway with her head in a basin. Resting upon her body was that of Mrs. Hardy. Near the gas stove was the body of Miss Green, while Miss Green was near the center of the kitchen floor. They had evidently been preparing a meal with food materials and crockery, lying on the table, when death came suddenly. Mrs. Kuusisto's body was near the living room doorway, where she evidently had tried to reach.

Efforts to locate Mrs. Kuusisto's husband, hunting somewhere in the north woods, were vain during the day. It is believed that he possibly knew of the plans of his wife and her friends.

Two Men and Two Women Arrested by Police and Six Automobiles Are Recovered.

With recovery Sunday of six automobiles and arrest of three men and two women at 31 Markham street, a hard blow has been dealt an alleged syndicate of automobile thieves, according to police detectives.

E. J. Bishop, 39, of 37 Krog street, was released after a long grilling. Ed Moore, 17, of Miami, Fla., W. M. Jenkins, 22; Miss Thelma Jenkins, 17, and Miss Alma Jenkins, 22, of 31 Markham street, are held under a blanket charge of suspicion pending a thorough investigation.

When Detectives A. J. Sloan, James H. Boyle and W. O. Bullard made the arrest at the Jenkins home, they found an automobile parked in the back yard which is said to have been stolen from Miami, Fla. All of the parties denied any knowledge of the theft, but the officers found keys to the machine in Moore's pocket, they stated. Moore, after being grilling, broke down and confessed, saying he stole the car which he found parked on Twenty-seventh street in Miami about a week ago, according to police reports.

Moore claimed Jenkins and his two sisters accompanied him to Atlanta, where he was released, according to police, admits that he and his two sisters came with Moore from Miami but said that they had no knowledge of the theft of the car. He said his first information that the car was stolen was when the officers made the arrest Sunday morning.

Jenkins stated that Moore's father, who is a contractor, gave him a job there, but wishing to return to Atlanta with his two sisters he offered to pay for gas and oil if Moore would furnish the automobile.

Moore confessed that he escaped from the Hapeville reformatory about five months ago. Officers stated

Aviator Will Try To Circle World in Two Directions

ITALIAN FLIER WOULD COVER 50,000 MILES

By FRANCESCO REA. (Copyright, 1925, by United News.) Rome, November 8.—Commander Francesco de Pinedo, just returned from a 23,000-mile round trip to Tokio, is eager for new adventures in the air, although his experiences between Tokio and Rome turned his black hair white.

In an exclusive interview with the United News, de Pinedo confirmed his intention to fly around the world north and south and east and west, traversing 50,000 miles and touching five continents. He outlined this grand adventure quietly and modestly, but with complete confidence that he could carry it through.

"My next flight will be equal in distance to twice around the world," he said. "I expect to circle the world in two directions, longitudinally and latitudinally, landing at each of the five continents. I will use the same type of machine I used on the flight to Tokio, modifying and improving it slightly as it is dictated by the experience I have just had. Six months will be required for preparation."

As de Pinedo turned to talk to this correspondent he left his proud family still absorbed in his great achievement, and there were several admiring glances seemed not to find the flier immune to feminine adoration.

"What was the principal aim of the Tokio flight," de Pinedo was asked.

"I wished," he replied, "to demonstrate that a hydroplane could accomplish any voyage and that such a plane could remain long on the water like a ship. This I have proved to my satisfaction. During the trip of 23,000 miles my machine passed through every sort of weather from tropical torridity to cold wind and rain. This was especially marked on the return trip. I flew from Tokio in 16 days. I was able to fly in all weathers, which is noteworthy, because I had to pass through moon-ridden territory at the worst season."

HIGH U.S. OFFICIALS ARE VIOLATING LAW GOVERNOR CLAIMS

America Branded as Most Lawless Nation Upon Earth, in Talk Before Anti-Saloon League.

GENERAL BUTLER IS PRAISED BY HIM

Chicago, November 8.—Many a depressing picture of America under prohibition has been displayed at the "crisis convention" of the American Anti-Saloon league here, but none has been done in such vivid colors as the one painted Sunday by Governor Gifford Pinchot, of Pennsylvania.

"There is a wave of lawlessness all over America," Pinchot declared. "Murder, banditry and violence of every sort are the despair of good citizens and the shame of the police. We are living in an era of disrespect for law. By the showing of cold figures we are the most lawless civilized nation on earth."

Enforcement Failure.

Pinchot brought with him a whole brief case full of statistics on the trend of prohibition enforcement in his home state. He named numerous Pennsylvania brewers and distillers, declaring they were in business "because the federal government has failed to enforce its law."

The outstanding law enforcement officer of the United States is General Smedley D. Butler, who was loaned to the city of Philadelphia by the marines to head a great law enforcement drive, Pinchot declared.

Philadelphia, the governor said, is the only large city in the country where crime has decreased since prohibition. Butler, he said, was responsible for this record.

Flays Cabinet Officers.

Pinchot then launched into an arraignment of the federal government, which, he said, is "winking" at violations of the prohibition law, and declared that cabinet officers, judges, senators, and leaders of official life in Washington in every line are breaking down the fundamental law of their country.

"Following the passage of the 18th amendment, crime fell off, poverty diminished, and the benefits of prohibition were made perfectly plain. Then came a change—a change due solely to the fact that the people who wanted to break the law had discovered that the law enforcing officials had no intention of enforcing it."

"Among all the cities of America, Washington, where laws are made, became the conspicuous leader in disrespect for the law and the constitution of the United States. Cabinet officers, judges, senators, representatives in congress and leaders of the official life of Washington in every line publicly, notoriously, and as a matter of course broke the fundamental law of their country. Is it any wonder that when these men set the example of disrespect for the law, the criminal classes should follow them?"

"Pittsburgh, the home of Secretary Mellon, whose good citizens have appealed to him over and over again to put an end to open and notorious violations of the law, is the seat of flagrant violations. It is so because the controlling political forces in Pittsburgh have succeeded in nullifying every effort of the state administration to reduce bootlegging and make the town dry."

"Leaders in state and nation countries."

THE GORILLA OPENS
ATLANTA THEATER
TONIGHT WITH RUN

"The Gorilla," one of the most highly entertaining plays ever seen on tour, will begin a week's engagement at the Atlanta theater tonight, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Excellently presented by what is said to be an exceptional cast, "The Gorilla" is pronounced a mixture of detective-mystery and love, which holds the audience from the rise of the curtain to its very fall. The authors of the play have worked out a plot unusually thrilling, even for a mystery play, yet have injected a priceless lot of real comedy into it. The lines are said to be uproariously funny and the two detectives—Mr. Mulligan and Mr. Garrity, are certain to keep the audience laughing every minute they are on the stage. Those who like an unusual show, who will appreciate real thrilling mystery, combined with amazingly clever lines, will find "The Gorilla" much to their liking. The Atlanta theater box office will be open from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., for the sale of seats, which may also be obtained at M. Rich & Bros. Co. store.

The Rialto.

Harold Bell Wright's "A Son of His Father" with Warner Baxter, Bessie Love and Raymond Hatton, in a stirring tale of the southern Arizona border country, with the plot woven around a band of smugglers that is over-running the United States. There are mingled with the usual and certain Wright thrills, much heart interest and comedy.

That, however, is but half the Rialto program. The stage offers the famous Sunshine Kiddies from Hollywood, in a performance of singing and dancing that would do credit to many adult stage performers.

Atlanta Theater.

(Coming to the Atlanta.) Nicolai, Welch, DeMilt, Inc. will offer for a week's engagement at the Atlanta theater commencing Monday evening, November 16, with the usual matinees, that smart musical comedy, "Lucky Be Good," which delighted theatergoers in New York for nearly a year, last season. The play is the joint work of Guy Bolton and Fred Thompson, with music by George Gershwin, who has become famous in the past few years as a composer of what is now known as "jazz" melody.

Mail orders are now being received and the seat sale will open Thursday.

The Metropolitan.

Today Colleen Moore, of Atlanta, shows at the Metropolitan in Isral Zangwill's great stage success, "We Moderns." She will be in her glory, for it is a part she knows so well. Like her late picture, "The Flapper," she takes the role of the modern girl. The cast in her support are all of the "star" class. On the stage are two big feature attractions—Rita Owin, dancer of world-fame, former star of the Folies, and Tevis Huhn, the millionaire banjoist, who is knock-out. Enrico Leide and his orchestra make up one of the Metro's best offerings.

Loew's Grand.

The headline attraction on the new bill of vaudeville which will open Monday at Loew's Grand theater will be Jack Wilson, the celebrated Broadway comedian. Wilson has starred for many years in the leading musical comedies and is known as one of the ablest fun-makers in the country. He will bring a strong company here in a clever comedy sketch entitled "A Nonesuch Revue." Wilson is a singer and story-teller with a wide reputation. Four other excellent acts and "The Tower of Lies," the feature picture.

Says New Method Heals Rupture

Kansas City Doctor's Discovery Makes Truss or Operation Unnecessary

A new discovery which, experts agree, has no equal for curative effects in all rupture cases, is the latest accomplishment of Dr. Andrew Kaiser, well known Hernia Specialist of Kansas City, Mo. The extraordinary success of this new method proves that it holds and heals a rupture. It weighs only a few ounces. Has no hard gouging pads, no elastic belt, no leg straps, no cruel steel bands, and is as comfortable as a light garment. It has enabled hundreds of persons to throw away trusses and declare their rupture absolutely healed. Many of these had serious double ruptures, from which they had suffered for years. It is Dr. Kaiser's ambition to have every ruptured person enjoy the quick relief, comfort and healing power of his discovery, and he will send it on free trial to any reader of The Constitution who writes him. He wants one person in each neighborhood to whom he can refer. If you wish to be rid of rupture for good, without an operation, take advantage of the doctor's free offer. Write him today.

Radio Conference WILL OPEN TODAY

Washington, November 8.—(AP)—Another attempt on a nationwide scale to apply the problems of radio communication will get under way here tomorrow when Secretary Hoover calls to order the fourth national radio conference. More than 400 delegates will be on hand, representing every phase of interest in the field, including official spokesmen for the Canadian, Mexican and Cuban governments.

The primary difficulty which the conference will take up arises from overcrowding of the ether by the increase in broadcasting stations. The possible need for limitation of the number of stations, and the demand for a method of selecting stations for operation which serve the listening public most satisfactorily will be topics for consideration.

Mr. Hoover is expected to suggest organization of regional committees to assist the commerce department in dealing with licensing, while the possibility of federal legislation to aid in solving the problems also will be canvassed. The conference is likely to last for several days.

Too Many Stations.
At a meeting tonight of the National Association of Broadcasters preliminary to the radio conference, Paul B. Klugh, its executive chairman, voiced a warning that radio broadcasting is menaced by the multiplicity of stations and the congestion of the air.

"Governmental control on a basis of limitation," he said, "is the only thing that can save broadcasting from hopeless chaos that can only end in suspension of the service to millions of people throughout the country."

The "copyright chaos," he continued, also has reached an acute stage and continuation of broadcasting under the present system is extremely doubtful, unless copyright owners will agree with the broadcasters upon a fair and reasonable fee, which will permit the continuation of the service to the public.

Suggests Reasonable Fee.
He suggested legislation which will "recognize the property rights of holders of copyrights and fix a reasonable fee for broadcasting compositions" as the only hope of the saving of the service to the public.

The gathering, attended by 300 members of the association, adopted these resolutions, to be presented to the radio conference: That no governmental or other censorship of radio program and that no limitation of advertising shall exist; the public interest being the best judge of what it wants to hear and being able instantly to shut off undesired programs; that there be licensing of additional stations, on the ground that the saturation point has been reached; and that Congress be asked to amend the copyright law, so that recognition is made of the rights of copyright owners with respect to broadcasting, and a fair payment be stipulated for the use of such rights by broadcasters.

Brunswick Is Terminus For Unloading Freight During Florida Embargo
Brunswick, Ga., November 8.—(Special.)—Florida embargo is giving the people of Brunswick an opportunity of seeing some real speed boats in motion in local waters. Because of the embargo, these speedy craft are being shipped here by freight, both on cars and steamers, are unloaded here and then carried to Florida. Practically all of them are new, therefore they are given a tryout in the local bay, and almost any hour of the day one can stand along the river front and see these little craft splitting the water at 40 miles an hour.

A demonstrator has been placed in this city with a few mechanics, and every one of the speed boats is given a trial here before starting on the inside route to Florida.

Freight of every description is also tied up in the local yards, while auto-making manufacturers are now shipping cars to Brunswick by freight, having them unpacked here and driven through to Florida. An entire train load arrived here Saturday, the cars now being on their way to various Florida cities.

FIRST SYMPHONY PROVES SUCCESSFUL

of the entire list was the first on the second half of the program, "The Segried Idyll of Wagner." All through this lovely thing, there came little touches of the different motifs with which we are all familiar from Wagnerian opera, and the haunting unmelodious from the cellos, violas and second violins float through the orchestration with a charm unpeakable.

Tom Standing, the young concert master of the organization, again demonstrated his wonderful technique in the "Rondo Capriccioso," by Mendelssohn. This is a sparkling production, reminiscent of dreams of fairies and satyrs gamboling down moonlit forest aisles. The orchestration on Sunday was by Jannickel, from Mendelssohn's own original score for the piano.

Russian Music Pleases.
Atlanta is fond of Russian music. Her perennial delight in Tchaikovsky is proof of this. Sunday Conductor Enrico Liede introduced us to a number of Russian, Glazounov, playing the Beethoven from "The Seasons." This has all the fire and national characteristics of the Russian. It presents two tone pictures, one of autumn, with the brilliant colored leaves dancing in the winds, and the other of winter, with the clashing sleigh bells and the musical quiet of the bitter cold on the Russian steppes.

Then, to send the audience home with a snap and a thrill, the orchestra played the Rakoczy March by Berlioz. So inspiring was this, that an encore was essential and so the blaring, snapping, martial music was played all over again.

The biggest improvement in the orchestra this year is to be heard in the brasses. They play with a sureness of tone and a confidence of volume that was rarely lacking in the past. The woodwinds also show marked improvement and the swinging rhythm of the strings is more marked than ever.

Seats Still Left.
There are still a few seats left in the reserved sections. Anyone wishing to insure seats for the remaining seven concerts of the winter and spring series, may do so by applying for membership tickets in the symphony association any time this week, at the office of Phillips & Crew Piano company, Peachtree and Ellis streets. The membership tickets range from $15 up, each ticket entitling the holder to two seats at each concert. Special student memberships, calling for one seat, may be had at $5.

The next concert will be given on Sunday, November 22, with the following program:

1.—Overture, "Martha." Flotow.
2.—Harp solo—"Harpe D'Eole." Hasselmans, Mrs. William Butt Griffith.
3.—Selections, "Madame Butterfly." Puccini.
4.—Two Preludes from "Jewels of the Madonna." Wolf-Ferrari.
5.—The Swan, Saint-Saens.
6.—Overture Il Guarany, Gomes.

Ex-Klan Chieftain Still Undecided About Testifying

Noblesville, Ind., November 8.—Whether D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, will testify in his own defense against the charge of murdering Miss Madge Oberholzer, will be decided sometime Monday.

Thus far Stephenson, indicted jointly with Earl Gentry and Earl Klench, has not made up his mind whether he will take the witness stand. His attorneys say the matter rests entirely with their client.

Through the long court proceedings Stephenson has listened to the testimony, sometimes with an air of boredom and sometimes apparently intensely interested. On several days he has taken elaborate notes. Court attaches say they believe he will elect to tell his own version of the affair in which he is involved.

Stephenson has a dynamic personality. He is a man with a large frame and a winning smile, assets which lifted him to a position of political prominence in Indiana before his indictment on a charge of murdering Miss Madge Oberholzer, 19-year-old social worker.

PROMINENT MUSIC TEACHERS TO HEAR 2 PIANO RECITALS

Mail orders for seats at the Maier and Patterson two-piano recital at the city auditorium-armsory Friday, November 20, will be received beginning Wednesday at the downtown office of the Atlanta Music and Cable Piano company, it was announced Sunday by officers of the club.

"Music teachers and students of piano from all sections of the state are expected to come to Atlanta for the concert because of the fame of the artists as the leaders among moderns in developing the two-piano medium," Mrs. Cliff C. Hatcher, president, stated.

M'CLATCHEY REPORTS THEFT OF MACHINE

D. F. McClatchey, of the Southern Bell Telephone company, was an interested member of the large audience at the Symphony orchestra at Loew's Grand Sunday afternoon, but his attendance proved costly. Strolling forth from the theater after the concert, he proceeded to the spot on North Pryor street where he had parked his car, only to find that it had disappeared. The loss of the machine—a new touring car—has been reported to the police.

COLD WAVE SEEN FOR CITY TODAY

Indications Sunday night were that Atlanta would experience a decided drop in temperature today, with little hope of a rise in temperature until Tuesday, when a slow rise is predicted.

There was little change in temperature during most of Sunday until night came. Weather reports from Washington early at night gave the maximum for the day at 58, and placed the minimum at 56.

Beginning early at night, however, the fall of the mercury became rapid, and at midnight unofficial thermometers in the center of the city showed a temperature of 34 degrees.

The Washington forecast for today follows:
Georgia—Fair and slightly colder in the southern portion. Monday; Tuesday, fair with slowly rising temperatures; moderate north winds.

those who made the supreme sacrifice during the world war, was introduced by Dr. Plato T. Durham, of Emory university.

Special music was given at the meeting. One of the features of the musical program was the rendition of "King of Glories," by the Central Presbyterian choir.

Tribute Paid Wilson.
High tribute was paid to the late Ex-President Woodrow Wilson Sunday morning by Dr. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of Second Baptist church, in a prayer service at the request of the church. He said if the United States was a member of the world court that Mr. Wilson's ideals would be realized in part.

Dr. Jones spoke on the text, "Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace and the things whereof one may build up another," Romans, 14:19.

"Peace must dwell within before it can be disseminated," Dr. Jones said. "Entangling alliances are necessary to weld the strength and solidarity of a nation to an absolute brotherhood in one neighborly principality."

Dr. Jones painted a vivid picture for his audience of the first Armistice day in 1918, which event brought mingled joys and tears to thousands of American homes.

Dr. Jones spoke at the night service on "Shall We Fight the Devil with Fire?"

Dr. Dempsey Speaks.
The ultimate patriotism is when every man recognizes that every other man is his brother and that wrong-doing will injure the cause of advancement. Dr. Elam P. Dempsey declared Sunday night in his Armistice day sermon at the Inman Park Methodist church.

Dr. Dempsey spoke on the text, "Consider Christ Jesus," Hebrews 3:1. "Citizenship," he said, "is not only of this world but of the invisible kingdom of God. No good Christian will make a bad citizen."

A comparison of the life of Jesus to the life of today was given. Dr. Dempsey pointed out that Christ, being an ideal man, was a patriot. This was shown through his love of his native land which was evidenced through his sayings while on earth. Dr. Dempsey said. He was supremely the patriot and not only obeyed the laws of his country but urged all others to do likewise, he said.

Dr. Dempsey urged the consideration of Jesus in all walks of life and that He be placed as a model for every life. "Consider Christ Jesus," is a well suited motto for life, in national, state and home life, he said. In speaking of the motto, "This is my country, right or wrong," Dr. Dempsey said that Jesus loved his country but not the wrongs of his country. His entire career was to right the wrongs of His country and He showed His patriotism on the cross in dying in an attempt to right its wrongs.

The sermon by Dr. Dempsey was one of several in the city in connection with Armistice day, November 11. He delivered the sermon at the request of the pastor, the Rev. Henry B. Mays. The service was attended by a large crowd.

Services of Same Pastor Are Sought By Two Churches

New York, November 8.—(AP)—Two Presbyterian congregations, one at Baltimore, the other at New York, prayed today that the Rev. Dr. Harrie Elliott Kirk might be divinely inspired to grant each his exclusive services as pastor.

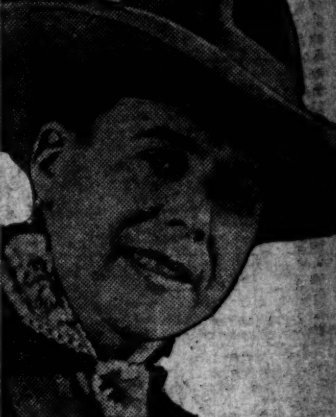

In Baltimore the congregation of the Franklin Street Presbyterian church held a special term meeting and offered petitions that the minister who had been with it for 24 years should elect to stay with it. In the Fifth Avenue church of New York the membership responded with prayers that Dr. Kirk be divinely inspired to accept its call.

Dr. Kirk himself admitted that New York is the one city in the world that frightens him, saying: "I feel more at home in Pekin than I do here." The Baltimore minister said he had been shocked at what he had been told of the dangers of the metropolitan environment.

"If you believe earnestly in your gospel you are willing to go into the very centers of unbelief in such a way as to draw men to Christ," Dr. Kirk said today when he occupied the Fifth Avenue church's pulpit.

He will make known his decision this week. Dr. Kirk is a fundamentalist. He is 63 years old and a native of Tennessee.

As Seen at the Game and Wherever The Smartly Dressed Appear

Coats Such as These

True, a coat's a coat "for a' that," but coats such as these, so distinctive in style, so beautiful of fabric and fur, are so far removed from the usual as to be quite incomparable!

One's personality and good taste may find striking expression in one of these exclusive models, so delightfully varied to meet each individual preference.

Quite luxurious fabrics of needlepoint, Kashoretta, Lustrosa, and the superb Kashmir weaves are shown in the bright sports colors, the soft plumage shades, and in navy blue and black.

In furs there's quite a preference for natural pelts of lynx, wolf, fox, fitch and squirrel while with certain models the furs are harmoniously blended.

Very new, ultra-smart are the youthful coats made reversible—fur lining of softest nutria with reverse of fine Kashmir woolen in solid color.

AUTO TAX PROBE TO OPEN TODAY

Washington, November 8.—(AP)—Repeal of the automobile taxes, involving an estimated loss of $150,000,000 revenue next year, which will be among the problems confronting the house ways and means committee when it takes up consideration of the revenue bill, is being discussed by the committee members, however, seem to favor some modification, at least, of the latter tax, and automobile manufacturers have promised to press on to the consumers any reduction granted.

Cigar manufacturers have asked for a reduction of the levy on their product. The entire tobacco tax yields $365,000,000 annually. The committee will consider all of these taxes together, apportioning among them the remaining $100,000,000 to be cut from the federal tax burden. Secretary Mellon proposed that some of these levies which yield comparatively small returns, including that on art work, be abolished. At the same time, he proposed that the tax on admissions and dues be retained.

No definite scheme for revision of these taxes has been proposed by members of the committee, and Chairman Green announced today they would be considered on the same non-partisan basis as the revisions decided upon last week, including the important income tax schedule. He sees little chance of the progress made so far assures completion of the measure in ample time for presentation to the house when congress convenes December 7.

Nevertheless, reduction of the automobile tax is being discussed by the committee members, however, seem to favor some modification, at least, of the latter tax, and automobile manufacturers have promised to press on to the consumers any reduction granted.

Committee members, however, seem to favor some modification, at least, of the latter tax, and automobile manufacturers have promised to press on to the consumers any reduction granted.

Cigar manufacturers have asked for a reduction of the levy on their product. The entire tobacco tax yields $365,000,000 annually. The committee will consider all of these taxes together, apportioning among them the remaining $100,000,000 to be cut from the federal tax burden.

Secretary Mellon proposed that some of these levies which yield comparatively small returns, including that on art work, be abolished. At the same time, he proposed that the tax on admissions and dues be retained.

No definite scheme for revision of these taxes has been proposed by members of the committee, and Chairman Green announced today they would be considered on the same non-partisan basis as the revisions decided upon last week, including the important income tax schedule.

as yet liquor advocates constitute the majority. "India and Africa are rapidly falling a prey to western liquor traffic," said the speaker, "and the influence of the total absence of religion of these people is waning."

"Let the western liquor traffic once become thoroughly entrenched in the Mongolian nations of the east and a race conflict will be precipitated that will inevitably lead to a universal war that will shake the foundations of this old world."

"Add to this the possibilities of the recently established vodka monopoly by the government of soviet Russia and the breaking down of the policy of self-determination in such countries as Iceland, Norway, Finland, Sweden and Austria. The same international liquor traffic has already struck a terrific blow at prohibition in Canada."

"The strategic opportunity which America has for leadership in this world-wide crusade grows less possible with every passing hour."

COMMUNISM FIRST TRIED OUT BY JEWS, ASSERTS DR. RADER

Communism was first tried out by the Jews in the Promised Land thousands of years ago and proved an utter failure, Dr. Rader asserted today.

Dr. Rader, pastor of Central Baptist church, Sunday night in a sermon scoring the efforts of radicals to find a political and economic formula for human happiness, said: "Every condition which it is possible to imagine which might have tended toward the success of communism was arranged for the Jews in the Promised Land."

"Each man was given his equal share in the beginning and a general redistribution was arranged for each fifteenth year to insure that possessions would remain equal; every seventh year was devoted to a general holiday, and the people were given things that even the most wild-eyed modern communist hesitates at promising for his scheme."

"It failed then and it has failed in all its try-outs as it has failed in Russia today, because there is no scheme which men can carry out by their own efforts to insure their own happiness," he asserted.

The forecast of Christ's coming made by Moses will be explained by Dr. Rader in his sermon at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night, he announced Sunday.

LODGE INFERENCE DENIED BY WHITE

own responsibility and without any consultation whatever with President Wilson, who happened to be at the time in the middle of the Atlantic ocean, on his way back to Paris, which he did not reach until March 4," said Mr. White in a statement issued tonight in which he objected to certain inferences regarding himself contained in the book.

"I did not show him on his arrival there, copies of my cablegram or of the senator's reply; nor did I mention the latter to him at that time or at any other time during the remainder of his life, and nothing could have been farther from my mind, when I called Mr. Lodge, than an effort to get the senate committed in advance to an approval of whatever phraseology might be adopted by the conference for the League of Nations, as is clearly implied in the book."

Object in View. "The object I had in view was precisely what is stated in my cablegram, that is: To obtain private information from an old friend as well as an authoritative senatorial source, which would enable me—not President Wilson—to make an effort to cause the phraseology of the covenant of the league, when it should come up for discussion in the committee of the conference appointed for that purpose, to be so shaped as to meet the views of the senate insofar as it might be possible at this time to ascertain them. I felt sure that, upon the president's return to Paris, no time would be lost in beginning such a discussion, and it seemed to me simpler, and likely, moreover, to save a great deal of time later on if the wording of the covenant could be brought into line with the senate's views while under consideration in committee. Otherwise, it would be necessary, in event of the senate's ratification of the treaty with reservations to approach all the other signatory nations separately for their approval of the reservations in question—a course which would necessarily involve protracted delay before the treaty could go into effect."

"It never occurred to my mind until the receipt of Senator Lodge's reply that he or any one else would suspect me of entering into a sort of conspiracy with the president to get the senate, or even Senator Lodge himself, committed in advance to an approval which would be binding upon that body of the phraseology eventually adopted by the peace conference for the covenant of the League of Nations."

"Still less had I any idea that a personal telegram of that kind would cause so much consternation and consultation on the part of the leading members of the republican party by a circumstance of which I have only now become aware upon perusal of the book."

Cablegram Barred. "A considerable amount of stress appears to have been laid upon the fact that no cablegram—even from one of the American commissioners to the conference—would have been allowed by the French government, or by our own department of state, to reach its destination unless it had the approval of the president. Such was not the case. All of the commissioners were in the habit of sending cablegrams freely and I never heard of a hint that such messages were subject to censorship or check of any kind. A cable written by a commissioner was sent by a telegraph company and sent immediately without question, or delay, for anyone's approval. Moreover, I fail to understand how the French government could have known whether telegrams sent in the cipher of the state department, of which they had no copy—had or had not the president's approval."

Polk Was Ignorant. "I am informed by the Honorable Frank L. Polk, who had been acting secretary of state during Mr. Lansing's absence in Paris, that he had never heard of this particular message until I happened to mention it to him in conversation in August, 1919. According to Senator Lodge's theory, cablegrams which were considered likely to have such far-reaching consequences would have been submitted to Mr. Polk as acting secretary and prevented from reaching its destination, unless he had been assured of President Wilson's approval thereof. Mr. Polk tells me that no supervision was exercised nor even thought of by him nor anyone else in the department of state in connection with messages sent by the commissioners throughout the department; and that no such supervision was ever suggested by President Wilson."

Card playing can't be very wicked because there isn't a black heart in the deck.

REBELS OCCUPY CITY OF DAMASCUS

Jerusalem, November 8.—Refugees arriving from Damascus declare guerrillas are occupying the city. This report is not confirmed elsewhere and must be accepted with reservations. The refugees further report that a rigid censorship has been imposed on the city. This latter statement is in line with reports which came out of Damascus Friday.

Guerrilla warfare against the French is developing on a large scale in Syria and so far is meeting with success. Realizing the necessity of dividing the French forces, the guerrillas are cutting communications in the occupied country between Damascus and Homs.

Wholesale Arrests Are Made In New Jersey Blue Law War

Perth Amboy, N. J., November 8.—(AP)—Police throughout Middlesex county today took the names of hundreds of persons found violating the old New Jersey blue laws. Motorists, in some instances, were summoned for driving their cars, and activity of every kind was stopped by police. Theaters, golf clubs, gas-line service stations and restaurants were included in places visited by the officers.

The arrests were the outcome of a movement started several weeks ago by the Perth Amboy Ministers' association when an attempt was made to close down Sunday motion picture shows. At the time, several motion picture machine operators were arrested and held for the grand jury.

Evidence collected today is to be presented to the new grand jury, which meets on Friday, it was stated tonight. Prosecutor Stricker early last week is said to have sent letters to all police chiefs in the county, asking them to enforce strictly the law today. The check-up, he said, was to be complete, and arrests to be made on even minor offenses. The officers were instructed not to start their campaign until after the people were home from the morning church services.

The Perth Amboy ministers, at a meeting Thursday night, made preparations to raise a fund, it was said, to take the cases against the motion picture machine operators, previously arrested, to chancery court.

Rome, November 8.—(AP)—The fascist authorities continue searching houses and making arrests throughout Italy in a clean-up campaign after the discovery of the plot alleged to have been engineered by General Capello, former Deputy Zanboni and others, to assassinate Premier Mussolini. Whatever evidence they have found to support the theory that this was incidental to a conspiracy of a small body in the outskirts of wider scope, they have thus far not seen fit to divulge it to the public. In the meantime, the fascist press is publishing additional unofficial details, designed to widen the circle of conspirators in the plan to destroy the fascist leader. Among the latest arrests is Luisa Paulazzi, proprietress of a small hostelry in the outskirts of Rome, who is charged with having received a rifle from an unknown purchaser and with having turned it over later to Zanboni.

Dr. Bencivenga, former proprietor of the Fress association, was detained for several hours and questioned by the police, but was released.

ONLY FOUR SOUTHERN CONFERENCE TEAMS UNBEATEN

Tech Begins Practice Today for Georgia Game

Tornado Finishes Vandy Game Without Injuries; Scrimmage Starts Tuesday

Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado came back to town Sunday with a new celebrity. Dick Wright became a hero in the Southland Saturday, and he earned the laurel in Nashville by his 55-yard run for a touchdown, the only one that passed the eagle eye and the line in Nashville.

Coach Alexander wasted no time in Nashville. The game was over about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon. At 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, before the final counts of the battle were in type, the Tornado was folded up in a pair of Pullmans headed back for Atlanta.

The team arrived Sunday morning, and rested Sunday afternoon and Sunday night. Today begins the grind for the biggest game of the season, Saturday's clash between Tech and Georgia, the first since 1916 and renewal of athletic relations between the two institutions a year ago.

Long Practice Today. The regular light, but long practice will be the order of today's workout. Signal running will be the gist of it. Tuesday scrimmage starts at 10 o'clock. The Tech crowd came back from Nashville in splendid physical condition. None of the men was suffering from anything more serious than bruises, except "Big" Carpenter, whose injury several weeks ago in the Alabama game has put him out of business for the rest of the season.

Wycoff was a great ground painer in the middle of the field Saturday. Carter Barron rose to heights beyond unheard of for him, but the only one who could pass the eagle eye and the line in Nashville. The Tech crowd came back from Nashville in splendid physical condition. None of the men was suffering from anything more serious than bruises, except "Big" Carpenter, whose injury several weeks ago in the Alabama game has put him out of business for the rest of the season.

Crowd Welcomes Team. A crowd of Tech supporters was on hand Sunday morning to welcome the Tech crowd back from its southern tour.

Rules of Health

"Constipation does not cause colds but constipated people are certainly more susceptible to colds than others."—A leading medical authority.

NOW comes the season of colds, and their numerous, sometimes fatal, complications. Now come the days when the robust friend of a week ago is next heard of low and dying. A time of year for everybody's extreme caution. Certainly a time to guard against constipation.

Pluto Water, relentless foe of constipation, is of great value in cold prevention. Used judiciously, it keeps the entire system in healthy, infection-proof condition by flushing the intestines of poisonous, de-vitalizing waste matter. In 30 minutes to two hours after taking, results begin and it does its work gently but positively—without griping.

Don't trifle with cold weather disease germs. It may make all the difference between health and serious sickness for you to keep a bottle of Pluto Water on hand at all times this winter. It is prescribed by physicians and obtainable at all drug stores in bottles filled and sealed at world famous French Lick Springs—the "Home of Pluto Water."

THREE OF BIG TEN LEADERS BEATEN

Chicago, November 8.—(AP)—Saturday's football results, one of them an unexpected defeat of the leaders, put a crimp in the championship hopes of three of the teams which heretofore have led the Western conference title race, Michigan, Iowa and Ohio State. They were beaten under unprecedented weather conditions, a blizzard at Iowa and heavy rainstorms at the Chicago and Michigan games.

Minnesota, only undefeated team of the conference and with only one conference tie, is technically the "big ten" leader tonight. It has yet to play Iowa and Michigan. The first score against the Michigan team this season came in its sixth game, a field goal by Northwestern, from the 15-yard line. There were only five touchdowns scored in the "big ten" games Saturday, a field goal and safety.

The Team Standings.
Minnesota Won Lost Tied
Michigan 3 1 0
Iowa 2 1 0
Northwestern 2 1 0
Wisconsin 2 1 0
Ohio State 1 1 1
Illinois 1 2 0
Purdue 0 2 0
Indiana 0 3 0

THOMASVILLE HI TEAM LEADING

Thomasville, Ga., November 8.—(AP)—The defeat of the Alabama Indians by the score of 28 to 5, in the football game played in that city Friday, puts the Thomasville Bulldogs in the lead in the Southern conference, Albany being its closest second. Thomasville has a clear record, having won every game this season. There are some fine players on the team and they have done splendidly. Dunn, the fullback, is said to be the best in this section. Pfeister and several others of the team also are making fine records for themselves. Much credit is due to Coach Harper, who has done great work with the boys and has been untiring in his efforts to develop the best of them in them.

DRAKE MENACE IN MO. VALLEY

Kansas City, November 8.—(AP)—Emulating the upset of the season by defeating Nebraska in a driving snow storm, 14 to 0, the Drake Bulldogs have taken themselves the most dangerous of Missouri Valley conference eleven and threaten Missouri's leadership of the conference. A defeat of Missouri now would place Drake at the head of the valley standings.

Only the weather was the victor in the Iowa State-Drake game at Ames. The two teams slipped and slid and fought to a 9-0 tie, both fouling badly. Missouri splashed through deep mud to put two touchdowns over the Washington goal line at St. Louis for a 14-0 victory. Kansas and Oklahoma battled to a 0-0 tie in the wet and cold at Norman.

The Kansas Aggies, in an inter-sectional contest with Marquette at Milwaukee, edged out a 2-0 victory, while the Oklahoma Aggies won another non-conference contest with Southwestern Teachers, 9 to 2, at Stillwater.

KUTSCH KEEPS SCORING LEAD

Chicago, November 8.—(AP)—The big ten touchdown scorers at the top of the west coast Saturday, due to the rain and mud and wind, snow and injuries, and Alquist, of Minnesota, in a non-conference game against Butte, passed "Big" Grange, of Illinois, to tie for second place. Alquist made two touchdowns and a point goal, Jeosting, of Minnesota, made a touchdown. Grange, the latter also playing in a non-conference game, advanced to a tie for sixth place, adding a touchdown apiece. Alquist Kutsch, conference leader, retained his advantage, although, because of injuries sustained in the Ohio game, he did not play in the Iowa blizzard Saturday. Grange now yards than he gained in the mud of Illinois' field. Benny Friedman, the Michigan passer, was up to his knees in mud at the Grant Park stadium in Chicago and while Michigan made one first down, the rest of the game was a fumble by Friedman that led to Northwestern's score for a victory over the hitherto undefeated Wolverines.

COOLIDGE HOSTS TO JAP ROYALTY TOURING AMERICA

Washington, November 8.—(AP)—The President and Mrs. Coolidge entertained members of one of the oldest royal families in the world Sunday. The Coolidges were hosts to the sister of the emperor of Japan and her consort, Prince Asaka, on a trip down the Potomac to Mount Vernon on board the president's yacht, Mayflower. The ambassador of Japan and Countess of Matsudaira also were guests of the Coolidges. The party went aboard the Mayflower at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Countess of Matsudaira, who went ashore that Prince Asaka might carry out a desire to place a wreath on the tomb of George Washington. The Japanese visitors, who are traveling incognito as the Count and Countess of Asa, planned to stop in Washington to Buffalo, their next stop in their tour of the United States.

FORMER MERCER HEAD WILL QUIT MINISTRY

Chattanooga, Tenn., November 8.—(AP)—Dr. W. L. Pickard, pastor of Central Baptist church here, this morning resigned and will retire from the active ministry. He was formerly president of Mercer university, Macon, Ga., and will return to south Georgia to live. He had been pastor here for seven years and had served as a minister for 42 years.

Grange Began Grid Career As End for High School

Following is the fourth article of a series that tells the story of the life of Captain Red Grange, of Illinois, acclaimed as the greatest gridiron runner of the world. It is written from interviews with Grange by James Braden, and is Grange's life story.

BY JAMES BRADEN.
Former Yale and All-American Fullback.
"This is my real story. I have authorized it for publication."—Harold Grange.
(Copyright, 1925, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

IV. STARTING IN THE ICE BUSINESS.
The summer between grammar school and high school, Red felt discouraged. He decided to give up school. His father, who was now chief of police of Wheaton, had other ideas. "You can either go to school or go to work," said Red's dad. "I want you to go to school, but there will be no losing."

"If it had not been for my father during those days, I should have become a bum," says Red.

He entered Wheaton High school and was impelled to go out for the football team. There seems to have been something fateful in the movements of Red toward the high places of football, yet time after time he almost abandoned the game. The thing which impelled him to go out for the team in his high school days was that he received his equipment free.

Grange Met East's Demand As Charley Paddock Did

BY ROBERT EDGREN.
Red Grange has stood up to what the east demanded to be shown. Red Grange, with the Illinois ten, has shown the east that the strongest team in America, Penn having beaten Yale and Brown and Chicago.

There is no alibi. Grange and the Illinois team are now exactly in the position of Charlie Paddock after last year's national championships at Newark. Paddock had been beaten by the championship team and had lost the 200 meters by inches to Scholz. Paddock was being criticized and his "western records" were being ridiculed. Paddock had done his best running in the west, where he broke several world's records.

There was a lot of talk about "western time," so on coming home from the Olympic games entered the national championships, rested a couple of weeks to give his leg a chance to mend, he had pulled a muscle in the Olympic tryouts at Boston and then trained quietly for the event. He won the national 100-yard dash in 14.2 seconds, equaling his own western word records in both events. After that there was no doubt that Paddock could run.

Koe Coaches To Stop Him.
Red Grange has had a tough year in the corn belt. He hasn't been able to repeat the tremendous scoring runs of last year and the year before, when he averaged 10 yards gain for every time he had the ball and made more long scoring runs than any back in the country. The middle western teams that played Illinois were all coached to play against one man—to bottle up Red Grange. Their coaches studied his habits in action and devised ways to stop him. Except for 14 seconds at the beginning of the Iowa game, that was his only chance to get going. The Iowa game Grange caught the ball on Iowa's first kick-off and ran nearly the length of the field through the whole Iowa team for a touchdown.

It was like the old Red Grange. But they didn't let him do it again. The Iowa game, it was a fumble by Friedman that led to Northwestern's score for a victory over the hitherto undefeated Wolverines.

AMBITIOUS MAN TRIES TO STEAL STEAM ROLLER

Dallas, Texas, November 8.—The world's most ambitious man was believed uncovered here. He attempted unsuccessfully to steal a steam roller. While his identity was only revealed in a whispered conference with a municipal judge and court attaches, it was indicated it would come to light through less nefarious activities. The man, who was named Caesar, promised the judge he would direct his ambition in the proper channels hereafter.

FIRE HALTS VOYAGE OF ARMY TRANSPORT

San Francisco, November 8.—(AP)—The army transport Somme, bound for New York with troops and passengers, was halted by a fire in her hold about 100 miles from San Francisco last night and returned here after the flames had been extinguished. The damage was described as nominal. The hold was flooded with water, and for this reason the captain decided to put back. The Somme left here at noon yesterday. She carried 160 soldiers and 160 passengers and a cargo of 800 tons.

TITLE OF EAST CLINCHED BY DARTMOUTH

BY FRANK GETTY.
New York, November 8.—With one of the greatest scoring machines in football history, Dartmouth has clinched the eastern championship of 1925.

The honor doesn't mean much in this year of unorthodox results and scrambled comparisons and the crown of king of the east will not be productive of much respect among pigskin subjects, but such as it is, it is for wear by the Green.

Coach Jesse Hawley's men, utilizing for the most part a devastating play attack revolving around the mighty Oberlander, have rolled up a total of 307 points in seven games, an average of approximately 44 points a game.

Topse Others.
This is a total greater by far than any achieved elsewhere in college and university ranks this season, not excepting the University of Washington, which started the season with a 108 to 0 victory over Williamette.

Washington, which defeated Stanford Saturday, has an average of 40 2/3 points for each of the six games the big Green team unleashed one of the great passing offenses ever known in American football, and smothered Cornell, 62 to 13.

Only One Big Battle Ready For Opening of New Garden

New York, November 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—A modern colosseum, the $5,000,000 realization of a world-famous boxing promoter's dream, is soon to open its doors to a sport-hungry metropolis and its fistic arena to a temperamental army of professional ring-gladiators whose malice and independence have placed them almost beyond the pale of civilization.

It is perhaps a tribute to the perspicacity of Tex Rickard that the new Madison Square Garden will be even more liberal than the old in the variety of its sport programs. For the man who fifteen years ago began to feed pugilistic avidity for fame and fortune with veritable scoops of golden fuel, he now admits that the financial appetite of ring champions has grown beyond his own generosity and his ability to cultivate the seed of great promotion harvests in the new structure.

Rickard once had harbored the hope that a bigger and better garden would enable him to bring indoors many important championship battles which otherwise would require the use of large outdoor arenas. But confronting Rickard tonight was the jarring fact that only one outstanding title match had ripened for presentation in the new Garden. The defending titleholder in this struggle will be Paul Berlenbach, a former wrestler rushed into the breach a year ago and pushed forward to the throne from which Mike McTigue was tottering. He will face Jack Delaney, of Bridgeport, Conn.

LANE IS EAST'S HIGH SCORER

No Outstanding Battles in Sight.
No outstanding battles in the other divisions beckon to the veteran promoter. Although Jess Willard and the heavyweight champions who preceded him could be lured indoors to do the crowd, Jack Dempsey has fixed as his price a prohibitive indoor figure of $1,000,000—and Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons says he will not take the amount of next year for fighting Harry Wills in the middle-west, despite the intimation last week by Rob Roy Benton that the proper place for the fight would be under the Michigan City matchmaker.

Wills, who has turned his back upon Rickard's inducements to fight Gene Tunney and George Godfrey, seems apparent content to confine his winter activities to mild training and the warmth of the Wills domicile. For have not the financial backers of Fitzsimmons admitted that the payment of $300,000 to Wills for "training expenses" with $50,000 more soon to be poured into the negro's purse against some future assault on his door by the well-known wolf?

The elimination of Wills from the winter roll appears no more certain than the improbability of Tunney's being coaxed into a contest with Godfrey, ranked as second only to a Wills fight. The list of opponents Gene would be glad to meet, handed Rickard last week, failed to include the name of the Mobile negro. The bars thus appeared to be up on the only big heavyweight match in sight, and Rickard in desperation has been talking about bringing back Carpenter and Firpo.

Middleweights Thinned.
Coming down to the middleweight division, the Garden chieftain finds the 158-pound ranks so thinned by the active campaigning of Harry Greb that the incoherency of Tunney's nothing. The Pittsburgh wild-mil maimed his best prospect last summer when he nearly killed Mike McTigue, although Rickard expressed willingness to promote a return fight until Greb, caught in the high finance undertow, was pulled from the Texan's impossible figure.

As for Walker, the welterweight king appears obsessed with a desire to fight Greb again and turn a deaf ear to tempting offers for a return bout with Dave Shide, who almost wrested the title from him during the outdoor season. And Walker can afford to be independent after adding a $100,000 purse from the Shade battle to his bulging bank account.

Lynes, of Princeton, will be one of the principal speakers at a meeting of the National Spanish war veterans at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, November 22, at the city auditorium, at which time the Confederate veterans in and around Atlanta will be honored. Transportation for the veterans will be provided to and from the meeting. Refreshments will be served, and an interesting program is promised.

New Orleans, November 8.—Saturday's football games in the southern conference reduced the number of teams undefeated in the organization to four through a defeat of Virginia by Washington and Lee. Alabama maintained its place by defeating Kentucky, North Carolina improved its standing by stopping V. M. I. and Tulane, playing a team outside the conference, stood still.

The day's play enabled the Crimson of Alabama to add the century mark in scoring with a 31-0 victory over Kentucky. Alabama has scored 113 points inside the conference. The annual honor of being the first team in the conference to have more than 100 points scored against it fell to Clemson when Florida ran up a score of 42-0, making the liabilities of the Tigers 107.

Georgia uncovered a great drive in stopping the Auburn Plainsmen, 64-0, while only a great spring by Dick Wright gave Georgia Tech a 7-0 margin of victory over Vanderbilt.

Sewanee Has Close Game.
Sewanee emerged from its game with "Ole Miss" with an edge of only one point. The Mississippi Aggies piled up 46 to 0 against Mississippi college and became state champions. North Carolina State and V. P. I. were unable to score.

Petrels Near S. I. A. Title.
Oglethorpe advanced to within striking distance of the championship of the S. I. A. by defeating The Citadel, 7 to 0, while Furman was losing to Mercer, 17 to 0.

William and Mary repulsed an eastern invasion by defeating Albion, 27 to 0, the same score by which the Indians beat the Pennsylvanians last season.

Conference teams playing outside the borders of the 22, did well. Tennessee defeated Centre, 12 to 0, and Louisiana State won from Rice, 6 to 0. Maryland was defeated by York, 13 to 14, but the Old Lineers counted two touchdowns and led the Blue for a time.

Tulane's victory over Louisiana Poly, 37 to 0, was marked by the activity of Flournoy, who accounted for 31 points.

Boys who constantly haunted Leonard's steps—were in sight.
The featherweight field offers a titanic struggle in which Louis (Kid) Kaplan will defend his crown next month against Babe Herman, but the edge of the bout has been drilled by the fighter's failure to win recently against Joey Celmers and Honey Boy Finnegan. The latter was given a decision over the California "few nights ago in Boston."

The inactivity of Charley (Phil) Rosenberg among the best of the vision which has not produced a great champion in years, and the ineligibility here of Fidel Labarca, new flyweight champion, and the inability to the tumbling of a golden pugilistic castle upon the head of its builder.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

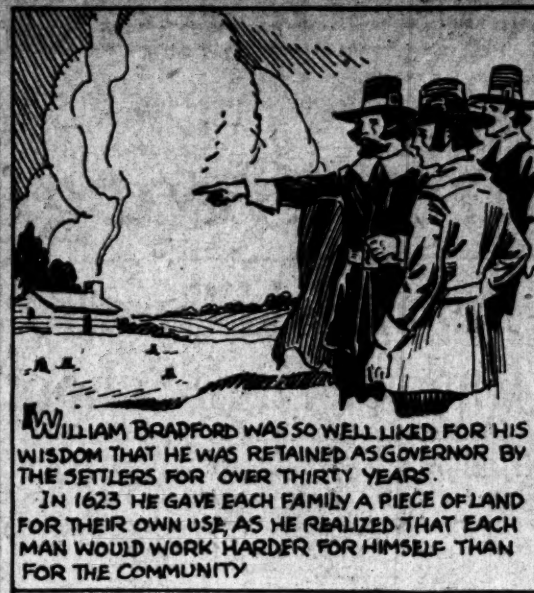

Governor William Bradford. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE COLONY OF PLYMOUTH WAS NOT ENTIRELY FREE FROM TROUBLE WITH THE INDIANS. CANONICAL CHIEF OF THE NARRAGANSETT, SENT GOVERNOR BRADFORD A BUNDLE OF ARROWS TIED IN A SNAKE SKIN AS A WAR CHALLENGE. BRADFORD STUFFED THE SNAKE SKIN WITH BULLETS AND SENT IT BACK TO THE CHIEF, WHO DECIDED IT WOULD BE WISER TO LEAVE THE WHITE MEN ALONE.

ON ANOTHER OCCASION BRADFORD WAS WARNED BY MASSAGUET THAT THE WARRIORS MASSAGUETUS TO THE NORTH WERE PLANNING TO ATTACK PLYMOUTH. CAPTAIN MILES STANDISH LED A PARTY OF PLYMOUTH FIGHTING MEN INTO THE INDIAN CAMP AND TAUGHT THE SAVAGES TO RESPECT THE FIRE ARMS OF THE COLONISTS.

WILLIAM BRADFORD WAS SO WELL LIKED FOR HIS WISDOM THAT HE WAS RETAINED AS GOVERNOR BY THE SETTLERS FOR OVER THIRTY YEARS. IN 1623 HE GAVE EACH FAMILY A PIECE OF LAND FOR THEIR OWN USE, AS HE REALIZED THAT EACH MAN WOULD WORK HARDER FOR HIMSELF THAN FOR THE COMMUNITY.

THROUGH HIS EFFORTS A FLOURISHING FUR TRADE WITH THE INDIANS WAS DEVELOPED, AND THE REVENUE FROM THIS BUSINESS WAS USED TO PAY OFF THE PLYMOUTH COLONY'S DEBT TO THE COMPANY IN ENGLAND.

SOLDIER'S REFUSAL TO STAND REVEILLE RESULTS IN DEATH

Washington, November 8.—Private John Ban, 20-year-old marine, is dead

because he hated to get up in the morning. Corporal John Joseph Kulick, 24, is held as Ban's slayer. The tragedy occurred at marine barracks here Sunday morning, when Corporal Kulick came through the barracks to arouse the 300 enlisted men there.

Ban, according to those who witnessed the killing, was said to have argued with Kulick. A fist fight followed, it was said. Suddenly Kulick backed away a few feet, drew his service revolver and shot the private. Ban died on the way to a hospital, a .45 caliber bullet having penetrated his brain. Kulick was arrested. A military court of inquiry will investigate the shooting Monday morning.

Tremendous Ovation Given Initial Symphony Concert

A perfect afternoon from a standpoint of weather, a sold out house and a symphonic performance received with a tremendous ovation—all these contributed to making the opening concert of the Atlanta Symphony orchestra a most outstanding event in Atlanta this fall.

There is no longer any doubt as to the future of Atlanta Symphony orchestra, according to officials of the symphony organization. It is a tremendous success and it has come to stay. It was made evident by the long line of subscribers arriving early to be sure of getting the same seat as last year; by the disappointed procrastinators who didn't need to be sure of getting the same seat as last year; by the disappointed procrastinators who didn't need to be sure of getting the same seat as last year.

Atlanta has set her seal of approval on Atlanta Symphony orchestra, music lovers stated Sunday, and that means that she now stands among the musically elite cities that take her place along with the other cities that maintain and support their own symphony orchestras.

Uncle Ray's Corner
Babylonia's Books and Libraries

The people of Babylonia sometimes wrote on papyrus, the paper invented in Egypt. This was expensive, however, and the common writing material was clay. The soil of the country was rich in clay, and it was simple to make clay tablets, or tablets, as they were called. After writing was formed on the wet clay, the tablets were placed where they would dry quickly. Sometimes tablets were placed on the ground where they would be baked by the rays of the sun.

In other cases, they were placed in a kiln (or brick oven). Tablets baked in a kiln lasted longer than the others. The writing was done by means of a stylus, a pointed piece of wood or metal. You will notice that the marks are straight, not curved. It is very hard to learn to read such words, but it can be done.

The "books" of Babylonia were made up of clay tablets. Each tablet formed what we might call a "chapter." There were libraries in different cities. The tablets were placed on shelves, and catalogs showed where to find this book or that. These ancient people were far ahead of the people living in Europe at the same time. In Europe, there were only wild or half-wild tribes, but the Babylonians had libraries!

It will bring weight if you are thin and pale, Taylor's Blood Medicine is purely vegetable, pleasant to take, and regardless of how weak your stomach is will tone up your system and make you feel fine.

Getting rid of rheumatism costs much less than having it. Taylor's Blood Medicine will save the large losses caused by the disease. Sufferers in almost every case find their wages reduced because they can't work as long or as well because of pain and sluggishness. Lay off! Lay off! result if rheumatism is allowed to get a hold in the system. Figures show that many women and men become dependent on relatives or state institutions when still comparatively young, because rheumatism prevents their earning a living for themselves. When rheumatism is considered from the standpoint of dollars, it is one of the most costly ailments. Taylor's Blood Medicine is not a new, untried remedy. For over fifty years it has served rheumatic sufferers as a most satisfactory means. Previous to its extended sale this prescription was widely used by successful physicians in the treatment of rheumatism with surprising results. Taylor's Blood Medicine now embodies the benefits of over twenty years' continuous use—twenty years' proved outstanding success in the treatment of all rheumatic ailments. (adv.)

Walnut Subscribers Take Notice

TELEPHONE calls from Walnut to FRanklin are now completed without the necessity of repeating the number to an operator in the FRanklin office.

Call indicator equipment has been installed in the FRanklin office and calls from WALnut telephones are completed just as calls from WALnut to HEMlock, IVY and MAin. It is no longer necessary to repeat the number to an operator.

WALnut subscribers are cautioned to be careful to dial the number they want, because they will be connected with the station they dial.

This new equipment is expected to improve the speed of service between the WALnut and FRanklin offices, and the cooperation of subscribers will aid this improvement.

JOANNA

BY H. L. GATES

Joanna, a modern girl, paragon of living alone, is summoned to the office of her uncle, a man of business, who is a man of business, and gives a letter to her in care of the office. The letter informs her that $100,000 has been deposited to her account in the bank by a benefactor who provides that his name shall be revealed to her. No conditions are attached to the gift, and Joanna is told that she may do with the money as she wishes. Neither Joanna, nor her great-grandfather, nor Graydon, will advise her. He exerts a strange influence over her and she at times is afraid of him. He becomes devoted to her. She knows instinctively that Graydon is setting a trap of some kind for her. Joanna is then struck when she meets the suspicious of all her own crowd, the other shop girls and her friends, who will not believe that she actually received a fortune from an unknown man. Joanna is suspicious and turns to John, her school-day sweetheart, who is also poor, and studying to be an architect. John is suspicious of her new riches, and accuses her of having fallen to the level of her low school friends, her lipstick and cigarettes. Brokenhearted by John's unjust suspicion, Joanna tries valiantly to explain to Graydon the reason for the gift to her. He will not listen to her, and she is left alone. She decides to accept the situation. Graydon shows up here, perhaps, she concludes, he will be of more value in opening up her new career than John. With Graydon, Joanna has her first glimpse of the life she has always yearned for—at a fashionable supper. Here she meets the famous people, the most noted beauties of the day, and feels the exhilaration of money and what it means. Through Graydon she meets Yvonne, a beautiful woman who is in love with her. As Joanna's interest in her grows, Yvonne declares to Joanna her interest in her and promises to help her in any way she can. Yvonne asks Joanna to become her partner, promising to help her in any way she can. Joanna is in a dilemma. She has the money, but she has the heart of a girl who is always wanted.

INSTALLMENT XXIII.

"You were such a surprise," he assured her. "Not at all like the usual girl one sees about in places. I'm fearfully fed up, you know, on girls, most girls, I mean. They've lost their enthusiasm. You're enthusiastic. Sort of caught me up sharply with it. And you haven't been spoiled. The girls one meets nowadays seem to be spoiled; that is, too many of them. The kind I know. They're the daughters of the crowd that has chow dogs, you know. Funny, but it's always struck me that when a woman gets a chow dog her daughter goes to the devil. Really doesn't go to the devil, but tries to act like she has been to him and found him too old-fashioned to be amusing. Now you're different. As soon as I saw you I was sure there were no chows in your family. Are there?"

"Not having the family, there aren't any," she said, quietly.

"Right! There's a reference for you. You see I'm always right about women. You're a flapper without a chow dog background. There's a heap of difference. If I were a literary chap, now, I'd put that in a book, or something. As it is you'll have to figure it out yourself. It's deeper than I usually go. I thought you must be something different, and I couldn't think of anything but singing girls and dancing girls. As a rule they've got sense, anyway. The debutantes that imitate them haven't—by the same rule. Now am I forgiven?"

"I never forgive a man anything," she declared promptly. "It always makes him dangerous."

"That's your difference," he discovered eagerly. "The kind of girl I don't like, the kind that isn't near so daring as you are, is the one who's always trying to forgive. They say it adds to excitement."

Yvonne's voice interrupted. She dropped into a chair and surveyed the pair on the divan. "You two seem to be hitting it off quite satisfactorily," she commented. "No entangling confidences, I hope." Of Joanna, she asked: "He's relieved himself of his own admirations for his pun at Doris and Pen, I suppose?"

"We'd just started on them when we cut all preliminaries and got down to ourselves," Teddy informed her ingeniously. "We've made progress. I shall be here tomorrow, promptly at four—to continue matters."

"You will not!" Yvonne corrected him. "Miss Manners—by the way, have you made it Joanna yet? I see that you have! Well then, Joanna has a day mapped out. There's some important things to attend to. And you can run along now, Teddy, if you will. You may fix yourself a drink on your way out."

When he was gone Yvonne and Joanna took up the "important" matters of the moment; the automobile, the chauffeur—"I'll find you one," Yvonne agreed—and a decent upon a famous jewelry house.

"There'll be a crowd here tomorrow night," Yvonne explained, "that's what Teddy was referring to. I'm making it a big crowd in your honor. I'd already planned a night of it, but I've elaborated for you. You'll meet everyone and they'll meet you. I'll have an unmarried senator and two married ones, without their wives; a few excited Russian princes, and a smattering of their princesses. You'll like the Russian girls. Some South Americans who will make you think, all ways, of sapphires or black diamonds, and everybody who's in love with me or wants to be. That'll make a representative party. I'm keen to know how you'll like it—the crowd I mean. Between Brandon and Roddy, to say nothing of Teddy, you'll be well presented. I fancy you'll be properly admired."

Joanna looked up sharply at the mention of Brandon and Kenilworth. She detected a change in Yvonne's tone as she pronounced the names. She wanted to ask her about these two, for she knew Yvonne shared with Brandon, at least, some intrigue concerning her. But she thought better of the impulse. Her thoughts went back to John.

"Have him come to you here, by all means," Yvonne insisted, shrewdly. "I fancy he is a young man who will require handling, if you continue to be concerned about him. Shall you be much concerned about him?"

The suddenness of the challenge, caught Joanna off her guard. She dropped her eyes. All at once she was conscious that her lips were quivering, and that she was concerned. It wasn't quite straight in her mind, but she had put away something Teddy Dormister had said for later consideration, and it came back to her, now, a little confusedly. "She was enthusiastic. But a flapper without a chow dog background. And you have not been spoiled." And you have not been spoiled.

Joanna's Debut.

It is only in the great capitals of the world that one may witness, or participate in, a gathering such as Yvonne Coutant delighted occasionally to preside over in her town house off the avenue. They are not uncommon in Paris where a prince of India may at any time transform a miniature palace in the Bois into an exotic fairland for a wild, barbaric fête. They were brilliant punctuations in the Bohemian calendar of old Vienna and in London, occasionally, a regnant beauty, perhaps a mannequin newly married to a duke, or a young duchess divorced from one, will celebrate by turning one night into enough extravagance to keep Mayfair gossiping for a month. In America they are rarely accomplished. The demimondaine of Paris and the diplomat from London are not unaccustomed to ignoring the barrier between them when occasion arises. It is an extraordinary hostess, in America, who can successfully bring together all grades of society, not rich and poor, so much, as the good and the not so good.

Yvonne Coutant was one of these. She had no scruples when she opened her house, as to who came into it. She demanded only beauty, external grace, and a willingness to be an appropriate picture for the shining golden frame she provided.

"One simply cannot afford not to be in on one of Yvonne's affairs," Mrs. Brownley-Smith, of the Polo crowd, repeatedly said. "One's husband is sure to be there, and so is his favorite of the moment I always go in order to discover who Tom's loving now. It's only way I have of checking up on the fluctuations of his taste."

"Yvonne's own latest former husband, Alfred Coutant, the novelist, never missed her entertainments. 'I get at least four chapters from every one of them,' he would explain. 'She's awfully good to let me come—sort of pally like, you know.'"

So it was that an interesting company moved about among the roses and lilies and daffodils that filled every corner of the spacious house with fragrant baskets of thick, flaming carnations relieving the paleness of the throats of women. And so it was that Joanna stood, arms outstretched that she might realize the line and symmetry of them, before the long mirror in her dressing room, upstairs. The slim body of her was vibrant with memories of the day and eagerness for the right. In her eyes were all the ecstasies. Strewn around her were the things from the shops—more gorgeous things from more gorgeous shops that she alone, ever could have discovered. It was from them she had made her choice—or Yvonne had made it for her—and she stood, before the glass a soft, mellow vision of lace and chiffons, fastidiously by deft fingers and cunning brains to emphasize that beauty of girlhood that only a sculptor could display more accurately or frankly. On the dressing table before her were spread the souvenirs of an hour, with Yvonne in the great jewelry store; wristlets of diamonds, rubies and sapphires; necklets of platinum chains, as thin as the sheerness of lingerie, with shining gems in their delicate pendants.

From all of these Yvonne had chosen a single ornament, a rope of shimmering pearls that would once around the slender, pertly poised neck.

"Miss Twenty-seven of the Silks" had completed her transition and awaited her summons into the magic world below—the magic world where money bought a smile or a kiss bought pearls like hers.
